- The students who fail to comply the requirements mentioned in (1) above will be detained and hence, not permitted to appear for University Examinations. Such students also stand to lose one whole year as they will have to seek readmission for the same semester in the succeeding year and repeat it.

The rules & regulations of attendance of University are binding. We feel, it is our important duty to appraise the students and their parents/guardians about the necessity of having satisfactory attendance in theory & practical classes and the consequences thereof for non-attendance of these rules & regulations. We also take it as our responsibility to design systems by which the students who are not attending their theory & practical classes are punished. As a measure of deterrent, every student who remains unauthorized absent in their theory & tutorial and practical classes are fined Rs. 100/- per day or part thereof. However, the students should note that payment of fine on their part is not going to compensate for their short attendance, in that case the college will not hesitate to detain them. If any student remains absent continuously for more than three days, he/she will not be allowed to attend lectures/practicals without payment of fine and permission from the Principal on the first three occasions in a semester further to which he/she will not be allowed to the lectures/practicals without being accompanied by his/her parents/guardians. Such irregular students will be punished heavily with fine and/or removal from the college.

For us, as an Institution, the environment and discipline in class & college is very important. The student being a vital component of the Education System - his/her irregularity adversely affects the performance of the system. Therefore, student will be solely responsible for their detention from University Examinations on account of his / her less attendance in theory/practical classes and unsatisfactory performance in term work assignment, practicals, tutorials, unit test(s) as the case may be.

Discipline :

We care for the future of our students and the environment to be given to them for their overall development and for achieving their cherished goals. It is therefore essential to maintain high standard of discipline with emphasis on self discipline by each & every student. It is the responsibility of every student to read and strictly observe the rules & regulations enforced by the institution to maintain the discipline.

The Property of the Institution has been painstakingly put together and hence needs to be carefully handled and looked after, so that students who follow, enjoy the high standards of the environment built up by the Institution. It is reiterated that wilful damage to property will not be forgiven and stiff penalty will be imposed on defaulters.
